100% of Irish business leaders want UK to stay in EU

Geoff Per Cheryl Cauley Paul Brigger is overall winner of the New Frontiers programme, an Enterprise Ireland initiative to help business entrepreneurs to grow.

Dublin Airport and Lon don City Airport plan to automate security checks at their terminals automatically by Christmas 2016, according to a report in The Sunday Times. The service deve lops a profile of passengers using biometrics systems at the start of the journey, and the full set of biometrics data is then stored in a secure database.

In brief

RBS to sell fund manager
London/Luxembourg: State-backed British bank Royal Bank of Scotland has said it is to sell its £350m fund manager operation, it has reported. The sale of the 18-year-old London-based business as part of its drive to reduce its retail banking footprint and focus on its corporate and investment banking businesses.

CBO lending rate slows down
Frankfurt: The ECB has decided to leave its key interest rate unchanged for a fifth straight week of its quantitative easing programme. The main refinancing rate and the marginal lending facility rate will remain unchanged at 0.00% and 0.25% respectively, while the deposit facility rate will also be kept at –0.40%.

Tokyo: The Nikkei 225 average of share prices lost 80.34 to close at 18,557.31.

New Frontiers showcase

Peter O’Dwyer

Peter O’Dwyer

New Frontiers showcases the number of people saving regularly, but driven mainly by a more favourable tax environment and a desire to end global poverty. I believe Ireland can be a leader in ending poverty and inequality. I believe Ireland can benefit from the focus on being a very different kind of global bank, in which the soft assets are as significant as the hard assets.

Paul Brigger: Overall winner of the New Frontiers programme.

Peter O’Dwyer

Peter O’Dwyer

Treemetrics branches out in €1m space agency deal

Peter O’Dwyer

Peter O’Dwyer

Saves increasing optimism on putting money away

Peter O’Dwyer

Peter O’Dwyer

Farming world

Dwan family opens gate for Teagasc farm walk

A Teagasc dairy farm walk will take place on June 6 at 10am at the Dwan farm in Roscrea, Co Tipperary, winner of the Teagasc Agricultural Science Award in 2013. This is the final of a number of National Dairy Farm Walks, with a total of 15 presented by Teagasc across the country during the month of June.

Dwan, who has 200 head, is part of the Teagasc Irish Dairy Herd Improvement Programme. It is expected that between 80 and 100 farmers will attend the farm walk.

Bord Bia drive to recruit 2,000 farm ambassadors

The Irish food industry will get the chance to learn from leading global food and drink companies as part of Bord Bia’s Origin Green Ambassadors programme. The programme, which is in its second year, is designed to encourage companies to be more sustainable and environmentally friendly.

Bord Bia has described Origin Green as “a game-changer” for Irish food and drink companies.

Bord Bia has appointed Origin Green as “a game-changer” for Irish food and drink companies. The programme is free to all Bord Bia members and aims to help Bord Bia members engage with their customers to understand and improve the future.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.

Joe Dermody

Marginal farmers’ fury at land eligibility issue

Farmers on marginal soil and disadvantaged land are threatening to launch legal challenge against government over the new land eligibility regulations.

Chairman of West Cork Farmers’ Association, George Mardell, said that the Department of Agriculture had failed to consult properly before the new regulations were introduced.

The Department of Agriculture and Food has issued regulations to determine eligibility of farmers to benefit from the new scheme.

Germancust boost investment

Berlin is set to become the world’s most attractive city for private and public sector investors, according to a new report. Europe’s largest economy is becoming a leading destination for foreign direct investment, with the German state of Berlin leading the way.